

OAK HILL CONDOMINIUM ASSOCIATION COMMUNITY RULES

All residents at Oak Hill-whether they be owners or renters- are bound by the Community rules. Investor owners are required to make the rules part of the tenant's lease agreement. However, the ultimate responsibility for rule compliance rests with the unit owner. Therefore, investor owners must exercise their duty to achieve tenant rule compliance and are responsible for the payment of any fines levied by the Board Of Directors for rule violations by their tenants or their guests.

The Oak Hill Condominium property is divided into three distinct spaces: dwelling Units, Limited Common Area, and Common Area. Generally speaking, the Unit is the dwelling space occupied by the resident, while the Limited Common area is comprised of those portions of the common area which are reserved for the exclusive use of those residents entitled to their use. At Oak Hill the Limited Common Areas are the balconies, decks, storage bins, and carports. Common Area is everything else, including the grounds, paved surfaces, halls, laundry rooms, building exterior, clubhouse, pool, tennis courts, boiler rooms, and much-but not all-of the wiring and plumbing. For a precise delineation of these three spaces please refer to Article II of the "Declaration of Oak Hill Condominium."

1. GENERAL RULES

If any vendor demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the Association, that its safety is threatened by a resident, the Association reserves the right to engage security personnel, the expense of which will be charged to the resident creating the safety issue. Resident concerns should be directed to the management agent. The first violation of this rule shall result in a warning letter to the resident. In the event of a second violation of the rule, the Board of Directors may levy a minimum fine of $100.
